BATTLE CONTINUES WITH GREAT VIOLENCE N. FRANCE

EXTENDING THEIR LINE

Allies Are Dealing Blow for Blow.

NO DECISIVE CONFLICT

Sixty-third Day of Great European War Has Passed.

London, Oct. 7.—The sixty-third day of the great European war has passed and there has been no decisive conflict on land or sea.

From Berlin and London came nothing in the way of German claims to progress or reverses. From Petrograd came what has flowed without interruption for weeks—consistent claims of progress for Russian arms.

From Paris was issued the usual communication, so called, interpreting the situation along the battle line of the western theater of the war in the light of those opposing the German invasion. There were in the closely worded statement, cryptic to an extent, as always, hints of a greater diversity of operations than it ordinarily contains.

Above all stood out the presence of what was described as large masses of German cavalry near Lille, hardly ten miles from the Belgian frontier, as the crow flies, and behind them German forces moving on a line between Houthoul and Armentières, the latter point right at the Belgian border.

Allies Have Not Been Idle.

At the same time the official communication makes it plain that the allies have not been idle and have been extending their line on the left wing more and more widely. Blow for blow evidently is being dealt around Arras, the scene of sanguinary fighting recently.

The same may be said of the region between the Somme and the Oise, for it is noticeable that the allies have claimed nothing there except a saw advance and retirement. They do maintain they have repulsed the enemy near Lassigny, upon which the Germans made a violent attack.

At Soissons, where the allies recently cleared the German trenches, according to the announcement, they have pressed their advantage by making a slight advance. Noyon forms the elbow from which the allied line sweeps eastward. Some advance by the allies is reported also at Berry-au-Bac.

East May Produce Solution.

The British press takes occasion to emphasize that while the battle of the Aisne holds first claim in the matter of sentimental interest the gigantic operations of the Russian, German and Austrian armies in the east may bring first the solution of the war.

Petrograd official statements continue to repeat in a general way what has been accepted here as a fact for days—that the German army along the east Prussian frontier has been more or less routed and cut to pieces, but as this is only a small portion of the front it is exceedingly hard to get anything like a clear cut perspective of the conflict.

What purports to be an official dispatch from Vienna insists in broad terms that the condition of the German and Austrian armies, both in Poland and Galicia, is favorable and that in attempting to breast the Carpathians at Uzsoz pass the Russians have been beaten.

STRIKE OUT GASOLINE TAX

Senate Democrats Caucus on War Revenue Bill.

Washington, Oct. 7.—After a two-hour discussion the caucus of senate Democrats revising the finance committee's draft of the war revenue tax bill voted, 20 to 17, to strike from the bill the proposed tax on gasoline and also decided, after considerable discussion, to eliminate the automobile sales tax, which it was estimated would have raised nearly $10,000,000.

The caucus also revised the tax on banking capital. As framed by the senate committee the bill would have levied $2 for every $1,000 of banking capital and surplus. This rate was reduced to $1 a $1,000 by a vote of 26 to 11.

CARDINAL FERRATA.

Papal Secretary of State Seriously Ill.

FERRATA IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Condition of Papal Secretary of State Assumes Grave Turn.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 7.—The condition of Cardinal Ferrata, papal secretary of state, has assumed a grave turn. He is suffering considerable pain with some fever. The attending physicians have abandoned the idea of an operation owing to the age of the patient.

CANADA WILL RAISE ANOTHER BIG FORCE

Plans Sending to the Front 22,000 More Troops.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 7.—Canada will raise immediately and send to the front a second expeditionary force of 20,000 men, with a first reinforcement of 10 per cent, making 22,000 in all. This decision was reached at a cabinet council. The second contingent will bring the total of Canada's force at the front up to more than 50,000 men.

Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, made public the action taken by the council. In a statement regarding the situation he said: "This force will be organized as expeditiously as possible and the arrangements for providing the necessary arms, ammunition and equipment are already in progress."

TWO MURDERS AND SUICIDE

Three People Meet Violent Deaths at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6.—Two murders and a suicide was the toll of crime in Minneapolis.

A shattered romance ended when a man killed his wife and took his own life. A quarrel over a family estate caused one brother to kill another. Roy Rodgers of St. Paul came to Minneapolis to effect a reconciliation with his wife from whom he had been separated for a month. His mission failed. He shot and fatally wounded his wife and then killed himself.

Rodgers was thirty-three years old and his wife twenty-five years old. They had been married about two years.

Andrew Okeson, a Lakota (N. D.) farmer, shot and killed his brother, Nelson Okeson, in Gustafson and Carlson's saloon, where the murdered man was employed as a bartender.

The belief of Andrew Okeson that his brother owed him money from their father's estate in Sweden is thought to have been responsible for the shooting.

Prussian Diet to Meet.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Berlin, by way of Amsterdam, says: "By special decree issued at imperial headquarters the sessions of the Prussian diet, which has been in adjournment since June 15, will be reopened Oct. 22."

Special to Dispatch:

London, Oct. 7, 2:52 P. M.—That the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful is the statement of the German general staff in a report issued in Berlin this afternoon. This reported situation is not confirmed by the French official statement, this communication asserting that on the left wing the battle still continues with great violence, the opposing fronts extending into the region between Lens, 9 miles northeast of Arras, and La Basse, 13 miles southeast of Lille.

AUSTRIAN FORTRESS DAMAGED BY RUSSIANS

Special to The Dispatch:

London, Oct. 7, 2:52 P. M.—The Havas agency in a dispatch from Petrograd says a report from Lemberg, Galicia, states that Przemsyl, the strong Austrian fortress fifty-one miles west of Lemberg, is being bombarded by Russian heavy artillery and the damage is said to be considerable.

GLYNN TAKES LEADERSHIP

Meeting of New York Democrats Is Harmonious.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The first meeting of the new Democratic state committee, held here, was entirely harmonious. All of the officers, including Chairman William Church Osborn, were elected unanimously.

The announcement of Governor Glynn that he would assume the state leadership and declarations that the national administration was behind the state ticket were greeted enthusiastically.

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, was a silent participant in the meeting.

DENY MISSOURI RATE RAISE

Public Service Commission Rejects Petition for Increase.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 7.—The Missouri public service commission refused to grant the petition of the trunk line railroads for permission to increase their interstate passenger rates to 3 cents a mile and their freight rates by from 50 to 225 per cent.

The commission ruled that rates could be increased only by legislative enactment or by a special order of the commission. Such an order would be issued only after a complete investigation of the value and earnings of the railroads.

LAST ROUNDUP IS BEGUN

Cowboys Gathering Cattle on Lower Brule Indian Reservation.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 7.—A small army of cowboys has begun probably what will be the last roundup of cattle on a large scale to be witnessed in Central South Dakota. The roundup parties have the Lower Brule Indian reservation as the scene of their operations.

For some years roundups have been a thing of the past in the greater part of Western South Dakota, which formerly was largely embraced in great cattle ranges, on which several thousand cowboys were employed.

JUSTICE WRIGHT RESIGNS

District of Columbia Jurist Qits the Bench.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Associate Justice Daniel Thew Wright of the District of Columbia, against whom impeachment charges are pending before the house judiciary committee, sent his resignation to President Wilson, to take effect Nov. 15.

The charges, filed by a Washington banker, alleged official and personal misconduct. Justice Wright attracted nationwide attention several years ago by sentencing Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders to jail for contempt of court.

PRESS BUREAU STATEMENT

Great Britain Denies Storing Ammunition in France.

London, Oct. 7.—The official press bureau issued a statement declaring "absolutely untrue" the allegations made by Professor Harnack and other prominent Germans that Great Britain had stored quantities of ammunition at the French fortress of Maubeuge before the outbreak of the war. The statement adds:

"No decision to send British forces abroad was taken till after Germany had violated Belgian neutrality and Belgium had appealed for assistance."

BRYAN IS AWAITING FACTS

Refuses to Comment on Jap Action in Marshall Group.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Declining in the absence of all the facts to express any opinion as to whether the Japanese landing on the island of Jaluit, one of the Marshall group in the Pacific ocean, is in violation of the announcement by the Japanese foreign office at the beginning of the war that Japanese activities would be confined to the Far East, Secretary Bryan plainly was expecting the early arrival of some official statement of the ultimate purpose of this act.

Already the secretary has interested himself in Japan's military operations against the German concession in Shantung, probably animated by the appeal from the Chinese government against violation of Chinese neutrality. The landing on the Marshall Islands, however, has not yet been made the subject of representations to the state department, possibly because there is no one in a position corresponding to that of China.

GOVERNMENT PLANS RETURN TO PARIS.

London, Oct. 7.—The French government will return to Paris Wednesday or Thursday, according to the Paris correspondent of the Express, who makes this announcement on high authority. The visit of President Poincare to army headquarters is considered a good omen.

ENDORSE WILSON POLICIES

Murphy of Tammany Hall Offers Resolution Lauding President.

New York, Oct. 7.—A resolution endorsing President Wilson and the policies of his administration was offered by Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall at a meeting of the Democratic committee of New York county and was adopted unanimously. The meeting was held to organize for the coming year.

The committee in the resolution pledged its undivided support to the election of Martin H. Glynn as governor.

Woman Killed by Car.

St. Paul, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Peter Ferguson, twenty-seven years old, was killed and Mrs. Albert Quade and her two children were injured when a Payne avenue street car crashed into the buggy in which the party was riding. The young Quade child, Alvin, was critically injured, while Mrs. Quade and her daughter, Mary, three years old, escaped with minor bruises.

Poor Living.

MOVING ON BUDAPEST

Russians Are Within Eighty Miles.

VAST FORCES IN FIELD

Line of Muscovite Army Runs From Baltic to Hungary.

London, Oct. 7.—The Standard's correspondent, A. Teploff, telegraphed from Petrograd:

The front of the advancing Russian army, now marching against the German and Austrian forces, extends from a point near Mamel on the Baltic to the region south of the Carpathians in Hungary.

The main Russian army is continuing its advance from the interior through Warsaw in the direction of Posen and Breslau. The right wing is moving in the direction of Koenigsberg and Dantzig. The left wing is advancing against Cracow with the intention of resuming the offensive against the Austrian troops now reassembling around that city.

A large force is pursuing the siege of Przemyśl, where the fighting has been very severe in several recent days. The Russian forces which have crossed the Carpathians are now within eighty miles of Budapest and news has reached the Russian general staff that intrenchments and other defense works are being constructed hastily around the city, notwithstanding the vast forces in the field which already are operating a great distance from their respective bases.

The commissariat department has discharged its duties most efficiently. The supply of food and ammunition has been consistently regular.

RUSSIANS FLEE IN DISORDER

Austria Reports Victory in Carpathian Mountains.

Manchester, Mass., Oct. 7.—Dr. Konstantine Theodor Dumba, Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, said he had received the following official message by wireless from Vienna:

"Our troops progress victoriously in all defenses in the Carpathians against Russians, who are fleeing in disorder. Two Montenegrin brigades which penetrated in eastern Bosnia were crushed after two days of sanguinary fighting and are at present fleeing over the frontier in panic. Several Austrians have been found in a horribly mutilated state. A whole Serbian battalion was captured by us in Northern Bosnia."

IMPORTANT ARMY CHANGES

General Von Hindenburg Replaced in Eastern Prussia.

London, Oct. 7.—A Central News dispatch from Bordeaux says the following important changes in German army commands have been announced:

General Von Mogen replaces General Von Hindenburg in Eastern Prussia. General Eberhardt becomes military governor of Strassburg, capital of Alsace-Lorraine. General Von Gerek is appointed governor of Ulm. Wuertemberg, and General Ludinghausen replaces General von Luckwald in command at Goblentz, Prussia.

FIGHTING OCCURS IN ASIA

British and Japanese Are Attacking German Position.

London, Oct. 7.—A report received here from Peking says the British are continuing their vigorous attack on the German position at Kiaochow. The German troops, it is said, have withdrawn on Tsingtau itself, the forts of which are kept busy day and night. It is added that the British and Japanese troops are preparing for a decisive advance.

Alleged Epidemic in Bohemia.

Paris, Oct. 7.—In a dispatch from Rome the correspondent of the Havre agency says it is reported there from Vienna that an epidemic of dysentery has broken out in Bohemia and Moravia.

T. D. ROBINSON.

Chairman of New York Progressive Committee.

TEDDY'S NEPHEW HONORED

Re-Elected State Chairman of New York Progressives.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—At the Progressive state committee meeting here Theodore Douglas Robinson of Herkimer, a nephew of Colonel Roosevelt, was re-elected state chairman. He accepted the office, but said he could not promise he would serve after election.

Among the vice chairmen elected was Miss Anne Rhoades of New York.

GIVES NEW VERSION OF GERMAN RETREAT

Writer Says French Found Gap in Invaders' Lines.

London, Oct. 7.—The Daily Mail correspondent in France gives a new version of the reason for the German retreat from Paris. He says that the moment General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, decided to arrest his retreat and face the Germans on the Marne, the French general, Foch, who was retiring south of Chalons, discovered by aeroplane reconnaissance that two German armies had failed to make a junction and had left a considerable gap in the neighborhood of Vitry-le-Francois.

General Foch thrust a large wedge of men, supported by strong artillery, into the gap and had them well established before the Germans discovered their oversight, with the result that there was a German panic and retreat in which the Germans suffered very heavily.

GERMANS ARE MOVING WEST IN BELGIUM.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Ostend says:

"A very important movement of German troops in Southern Belgium was reported. A column 20,000 strong, of horse and foot artillery, with a commissariat convoy and wireless apparatus, marched through Tempeuve, five miles north of Tournai, in the direction of the French frontier to the west. All the troops were young men."

GIVES BLANKETS TO TROOPS

Edward Page Gaston, American Journalist, Held in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Edward Page Gaston, Harvey, Ill., well known American journalist and lecturer, was arrested here as he was about to leave the city.

Gaston had distributed blankets, underwear and clothing to British prisoners of war. The specific charge on which his arrest was made was not divulged. James W. Gerard, American ambassador here, is endeavoring to have Gaston released.

SHELLING IMMINENT

Antwerp People Are Warned to Flee.

TO THE EXTREME LIMIT

Belgian Town Intends Resisting German Attack.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Antwerp gives the following official communication:

"The military governor has informed the burgomaster that a bombardment of Antwerp is imminent and that the people who wish to flee from the town are requested to leave."

"The bombardment will have no influence on the town's resistance, which will be pushed to the extreme limit."

The Exchange Telegraph company adds that the foregoing message has been passed by the British censor for publication.

QUESTS MAYOR AND SHERIFF

Court Finds Butte Officials Guilty of Neglect of Duty.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 7.—Sheriff Timothy Driscoll and Mayor Lewis J. Duncan were found guilty of neglect of their duties in connection with the recent miners' riots and were removed from office by Judge Roy E. Ayers of the district court after a trial which lasted more than two weeks.

The court refused to grant a stay of execution of ten days while an appeal to the supreme court is perfected. Both officers are vacated pending an appeal.

Mayor Duncan is removed from office because of his failure to provide the city with proper protection last June, when the miners' hall was dynamited by an opposing faction of miners.

The charge against Sheriff Driscoll was similar to that against the mayor. Driscoll admitted in testifying in his own behalf that his deputies failed to make forcible resistance to the rioters.

LAY PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

President and Cabinet Meet as Political Board of Strategy.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and his cabinet gathered at a political board of strategy and laid plans for the coming congressional campaign.

It was one of the few times since the Wilson administration came into office that little but politics has been considered at a cabinet meeting. The session lasted more than two hours with the entire cabinet present. Itineraries of cabinet members' campaign tours were taken up and subjects to be discussed in campaign speeches were gone over.

The president expects congress to adjourn next week and immediately afterward the campaign will be begun.

TELLS OF VISIT TO FRONT

King George Receives Telegram From President Poincare.

London, Oct. 7.—An official communication issued by the press bureau says:

"King George has received a telegram from President Poincare of France, saying:

"On leaving French headquarters I had great pleasure in paying a visit to Field Marshal French at British headquarters and to his valued British troops. I seized this agreeable opportunity for renewing to your majesty my most hearty felicitations and shall be grateful if you will convey them to the splendid army which is fighting bravely on the side of the French."

Shells Cause Little Damage.

London, Oct. 7.—The Daily Telegraph correspondent in France says: "For nearly three weeks the casualties among the British troops have been insignificant. The big German shells do comparatively little damage. The German infantry attacks ceased long ago."

TEDDY'S NEPHEW HONORED

Re-Elected State Chairman of New York Progressives.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—At the Progressive state committee meeting here Theodore Douglas Robinson of Herkimer, a nephew of Colonel Roosevelt, was re-elected state chairman. He accepted the office, but said he could not promise he would serve after election.

Among the vice chairmen elected was Miss Anne Rhoades of New York.

GIVES NEW VERSION OF GERMAN RETREAT

Writer Says French Found Gap in Invaders' Lines.

London, Oct. 7.—The Daily Mail correspondent in France gives a new version of the reason for the German retreat from Paris. He says that the moment General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, decided to arrest his retreat and face the Germans on the Marne, the French general, Foch, who was retiring south of Chalons, discovered by aeroplane reconnaissance that two German armies had failed to make a junction and had left a considerable gap in the neighborhood of Vitry-le-Francois.

General Foch thrust a large wedge of men, supported by strong artillery, into the gap and had them well established before the Germans discovered their oversight, with the result that there was a German panic and retreat in which the Germans suffered very heavily.

GERMANS ARE MOVING WEST IN BELGIUM.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Ostend says:

"A very important movement of German troops in Southern Belgium was reported. A column 20,000 strong, of horse and foot artillery, with a commissariat convoy and wireless apparatus, marched through Tempeuve, five miles north of Tournai, in the direction of the French frontier to the west. All the troops were young men."

GIVES BLANKETS TO TROOPS

Edward Page Gaston, American Journalist, Held in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Edward Page Gaston, Harvey, Ill., well known American journalist and lecturer, was arrested here as he was about to leave the city.

Gaston had distributed blankets, underwear and clothing to British prisoners of war. The specific charge on which his arrest was made was not divulged. James W. Gerard, American ambassador here, is endeavoring to have Gaston released.

SHELLING IMMINENT

Antwerp People Are Warned to Flee.

TO THE EXTREME LIMIT

Belgian Town Intends Resisting German Attack.

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Antwerp gives the following official communication:

"The military governor has informed the burgomaster that a bombardment of Antwerp is imminent and that the people who wish to flee from the town are requested to leave."

"The bombardment will have no influence on the town's resistance, which will be pushed to the extreme limit."

The Exchange Telegraph company adds that the foregoing message has been passed by the British censor for publication.

OUSTS MAYOR AND SHERIFF

Court Finds Butte Officials Guilty of Neglect of Duty.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 7.—Sheriff Timothy Driscoll and Mayor Lewis J. Duncan were found guilty of neglect of their duties in connection with the recent miners' riots and were removed from office by Judge Roy E. Ayers of the district court after a trial which lasted more than two weeks.

The court refused to grant a stay of execution of ten days while an appeal to the supreme court is perfected. Both offices are vacated pending an appeal.

Mayor Duncan is removed from office because of his failure to provide the city with proper protection last June, when the miners' hall was dynamited by an opposing faction of miners.

The charge against Sheriff Driscoll was similar to that against the mayor. Driscoll admitted in testimony in his own behalf that his deputies failed to make forcible resistance to the rioters.

LAY PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

President and Cabinet Meet as Political Board of Strategy.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and his cabinet gathered as a political board of strategy and laid plans for the coming congressional campaign.

It was one of the few times since the Wilson administration came into office that little but politics has been considered at a cabinet meeting.

The session lasted more than two hours with the entire cabinet present. Itineraries of cabinet members' campaign tours were taken up and subjects to be discussed in campaign speeches were gone over.

The president expects congress to adjourn next week and immediately afterward the campaign will be begun.

TELLS OF VISIT TO FRONT

King George Receives Telegram From President Poincare.

London, Oct. 7.—An official communication issued by the press bureau says:

"King George has received a telegram from President Poincare of France, saying:

"On leaving French headquarters I had great pleasure in paying a visit to Field Marshal French at British headquarters and to his valued British troops. I seized this agreeable opportunity for renewing to your majesty my most hearty felicitations and shall be grateful if you will convey them to the splendid army which is fighting bravely by the side of the French."

Shells Cause Little Damage.

London, Oct. 7.—The Daily Telegraph correspondent in France says: "For nearly three weeks the casualties among the British troops have been insignificant. The big German shells do comparatively little damage. The German infantry attacks ceased long ago."

LEE REPLIES TO HAMMOND

W. E. Lee, republican candidate for governor, in a speech at Buffalo on Monday night answered Mr. Hammond's Red Wing speech, and the extract is well worth reading:

"In his speech in Red Wing the democratic candidate for governor referred to my statements with reference to the 'brewery combine' in Minnesota, and its activities in politics, and asks: 'Are they extravagant fancies based on little fact or are they true?'"

The democratic candidate for governor professes not to know that there is a brewery organization in Minnesota or that it has been exerting a most powerful influence in politics for many years; that it has intruded itself into every village and city in the state and has maintained a lobby in the state capitol during every legislature; that it is, and has been, a most potent factor in Minnesota politics. If he is ignorant of all this, it is evident that his stand in the city of Washington for the past eight years has put him entirely out of touch with what has been going on in Minnesota, and that he is as innocent concerning matters political as he is of the number of acres of waste land that there is in our state, or with the kind of timber that should be used in reforesting these lands to secure a rapid growth and quick returns of investment.

If he will read the little booklets published by Lynn Haines and C. J. Buell on the sessions of the legislature for the years of 1909, 1911 and 1913, he will get an idea of this powerful brewery organization and what it stands for and against in legislation, and something of a notion of who has been serving it. The history written by these men, so far as it refers to the influence of the brewery organization on legislation, has never been questioned; in fact, it circulates as accepted history. Mr. Haines says, "The brewers exert an immeasurably evil influence in Minnesota politics. Their profligacy and unscrupulous practices in campaigns make the better class of citizens hesitate to become candidates for the legislature, and results directly in the election of law makers lacking both in patriotic conception of their duties and in the character which should accompany such responsibility," and he recites cases of trade and log rolling for the advancement or defeat, as the brewery combination may wish, of important legislation throughout both of the sessions concerning which he writes.

The report of the senate committee two years ago on its investigation of the "brewery owned saloon" and its effect upon our cities and villages, showed that out of 814 saloons in the Twin Cities, 712 were owned by brewers; that 418 buildings occupied by saloons in these cities are also owned by brewers; that from 60 to 75 per cent of the liquor licenses in St. Paul and 40 per cent in Minneapolis are paid for by brewers; that "blind pigs" and evil resorts are encouraged and their existence made possible by these same brewers; that their agents and officers "have sought to control elections and have successfully dictated affairs of duty with reference to liquor traffic."

The Democratic candidate wants to know who it is that this brewers' organization influences. He calls upon me to name the men; he charges that some of them who have in the past been so influenced are now supporting me for governor. In reply to his demands I may say that I have been a candidate for governor in two campaigns. The issues upon which I have asked the support of the people are:

The need of a more efficient and business-like administration of the state's business; and the need of driving this brewery organization out of politics; and I have given as one of the best methods to accomplish this last and most desired result, the placing upon the statute books of Minnesota what is known as a county option law which will enable the people to vote upon the license question by counties.

I am making my appeal for votes to the people who stand for good government, first, last and all the time; who are opposed to all special privileges; who insist that their homes, their families—the boys and girls they are bringing up—are of more importance to them than is the pecuniary interest of the brewers of Minnesota. This is a dominant issue in this campaign. Personalities are irrelevant, and I refuse to be drawn into a discussion of them.

In conclusion I desire to ask the Democratic candidate a question which has a direct bearing on his attitude toward liquor interest in legislation:

"Mr. Hammond, will you please explain why the 'War Revenue Bill,' in the preparation of which you are credited with much influence, does not place a tax on whiskey?"

Votes for Hammond will be solicited on the strength of Wilson's record.

The familiar face of Charles W. Bouck is appearing in the newspapers of this district along with the announcement that he is a candidate for representative at large at the coming election.

Bryan is to be brought to Minnesota in an effort to increase the vote for the democratic governor. Wonder if William will also advocate the adoption of non-partisan principle by all but democrats.

Austrians have a custom whereby the bride at the wedding sells kisses and a recent occurrence of this kind at Deerwood netted the neat sum of $400, according to newspaper account. The bride must have been exceedingly sweet or war prices must have been charged.

The Little Falls council refused to release the gas company from its $500 penalty for failure to fulfill the agreement as to the time buildings were to be erected and work commenced on the plant, the company being granted by ordinance an extension of the time in which the plant should be completed to September 29, 1915.

Experts claim that a farmer can build a silo for from two to three hundred dollars that will, under ordinary conditions, pay a dividend of 40 per cent where it is run to capacity. The silo is a factory on the farm and therefore lends itself to co-operation of the commercial and agricultural interests, the farmer getting the profit of both producer and consumer.

Minnesota has 156,137 farms and of this number 123,326 are operated by owners and managers and 32,811 by tenants. The farm home owners of this state cultivate 14,439,000 acres of land and the tenants till 5,205,000 acres. The value of the buildings and land of the tenant farms is $321,173.00 and of the home owners and managers $941,269,000.

LaFollett refuses to become an independent candidate for governor in Wisconsin in opposition to the republican and democratic candidates, his recommendation being that some one else take the field as an independent progressive against them. Evidently the Wisconsin senator figures that the independent candidate is due for a "trouncing" at the coming election.

Beltrami county is to have a fur farm, skunk and mink are to be raised and the farmers who have been troubled by these animals stealing their chickens are advised to trap and turn them over to the fur farm alive by the Bemidji Pioneer. The mink proposition might be all right along that line, but just what method would be used to trap a skunk alive and deliver the goods with any degree of comfort remains to be told.

Certificate of Incorporation of The Sherlund Company.

We, the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter Fifty Eight, General Statutes of Minnesota for 1913, and any amendments thereof, hereby associate ourselves as a body corporate and do hereby adopt the following certificate of incorporation.

The name of this corporation shall be "The Sherlund Company." The general nature of its business shall be the carrying on and conducting of a general engineering, steam-fitting, heating, plumbing and contracting business, including therein the designing, constructing, enlarging, repairing, or removing or otherwise engaging in any work upon buildings, roads, highways, manufacturing plants, bridges, mines, shafts, water works, railroads, railway structures and all iron, steel, wood, masonry and earth construction and to extend and receive any contracts or assignments of contracts thereto, or connecting therewith, and to manufacture and furnish the building materials and supplies required therefor; to purchase, manufacture and sell heaters, stoves, furnaces and other devices and appliances for generating heat and power, take out, use and sell letters patent of the United States and elsewhere for such devices and appliances, and to issue licenses to others to purchase, manufacture and sell said heaters, stoves, furnaces, devices and appliances; to manufacture, buy, sell, lease, store and repair automobiles and motor vehicles of all descriptions and their parts and accessories; to purchase, improve, develop, hold and enjoy real estate, in fee simple, upon ground rent or lease, and to lease, mortgage and sell the same and to erect, manage, care for, maintain, extend and alter buildings thereon; and to do and perform all other acts necessary and incident to the conduct or management of such business. The principal place of transacting the business of this corporation shall be the City of Brainerd, Crow Wing County, State of Minnesota.

The time for the commencement of this corporation shall be October seventh, 1914, and the period of its duration shall be thirty years.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation are: Louis W. Sherlund, Roy W. Sherlund, Chas. N. Sherlund, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell, all of Brainerd, Minnesota.

The management of this corporation shall be vested in a Board of Directors composed of not less than three and not more than seven members. The names and addresses of the first Board of Directors are: Louis W. Sherlund, Roy W. Sherlund, Chas. N. Sherlund, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell, all of Brainerd, Minnesota. The officers of this corporation shall be: Louis W. Sherlund, President; W. H. Crowell, Vice-President; Roy W. Sherlund, Secretary, and O. M. Hansyn, Treasurer. All of the above named officers and directors shall hold their respective offices until the next annual meeting of this corporation, to be held January fourth, 1915, at which time and annually thereafter a Board of Directors shall be elected from and by the stockholders of this corporation.

The annual meeting of this corporation shall be held at its principal place of business on the first Monday in January in each year. Immediately after the election of directors or as soon thereafter as practicable, the directors shall meet and elect from their number a President and a Vice-President and from their number or from the stockholders, a Secretary and Treasurer. Any one except that of President and Vice-President may be held by one and the same person. The directors and officers of this corporation shall hold their respective offices until their successors have been duly elected and entered upon the discharge of their duties. The first meeting of the stockholders and Board of Directors shall be held at Brainerd, Minnesota, on the seventeenth day of October, at Seven o'clock P. M. of said day.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) which shall be paid in, in money or property, or both, in such manner, at such times, and in such amounts as the Board of Directors shall order. The capital stock shall be divided into twenty five hundred shares (2500) of the par value of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject, shall be the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00).

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals, this 3rd day of October, 1914.

LEE REPLIES TO HAMMOND

W. E. Lee, republican candidate for governor, in a speech at Buffalo on Monday night answered Mr. Hammond's Red Wing speech, and the extract is well worth reading:

"In his speech in Red Wing the democratic candidate for governor referred to my statements with reference to the 'brewery combine' in Minnesota, and its activities in politics, and asks: 'Are they extravagant fancies based on little fact or are they true?'"

The democratic candidate for governor professes not to know that there is a brewery organization in Minnesota or that it has been exerting a most powerful influence in politics for many years; that it has intruded itself into every village and city in the state and has maintained a lobby in the state capitol during every legislature; that it is, and has been, a most potent factor in Minnesota politics. If he is ignorant of all this, it is evident that his stand in the city of Washington for the past eight years has put him entirely out of touch with what has been going on in Minnesota, and that he is as innocent concerning matters political as he is of the number of acres of waste land that there is in our state, or with the kind of timber that should be used in reforesting these lands to secure a rapid growth and quick returns of investment.

If he will read the little booklets published by Lynn Haines and C. J. Buell on the sessions of the legislature for the years of 1909, 1911 and 1913, he will get an idea of this powerful brewery organization and what it stands for and against in legislation, and something of a notion of who has been serving it. The history written by these men, so far as it refers to the influence of the brewery organization on legislation, has never been questioned; in fact, it circulates as accepted history. Mr. Haines says, "The brewers exert an immeasurably evil influence in Minnesota politics. Their profligacy and unscrupulous practices in campaigns make the better class of citizens hesitate to become candidates for the legislature, and results directly in the election of law makers lacking both in patriotic conception of their duties and in the character which should accompany such responsibility," and he recites cases of trade and log rolling for the advancement or defeat, as the brewery combination may wish, of important legislation throughout both of the sessions concerning which he writes.

The report of the senate committee two years ago on its investigation of the "brewery owned saloon" and its effect upon our cities and villages, showed that out of 814 saloons in the Twin Cities, 712 were owned by brewers; that 418 buildings occupied by saloons in these cities are also owned by brewers; that from 60 to 75 per cent of the liquor licenses in St. Paul and 40 per cent in Minneapolis are paid for by brewers; that "blind pigs" and evil resorts are encouraged and their existence made possible by these same brewers; that their agents and officers "have sought to control elections and have successfully dictated affairs of duty with reference to liquor traffic."

The democratic candidate wants to know who it is that this brewers' organization influences. He calls upon me to name the men; he charges that some of them who have in the past been so influenced are now supporting me for governor. In reply to his demands I may say that I have been a candidate for governor in two campaigns. The issues upon which I have asked the support of the people are:

In conclusion I desire to ask the Democratic candidate a question which has a direct bearing on his attitude toward liquor interest in legislation:

"Mr. Hammond, will you please explain why the 'War Revenue Bill,' (in the preparation of which you are credited with much influence) does not place a tax on whiskey?"

Votes for Hammond will be solicited on the strength of Wilson's record.

Experts claim that a farmer can build a silo for from two to three hundred dollars that will, under ordinary conditions, pay a dividend of 40 per cent where it is run to capacity. The silo is a factory on the farm and therefore lends itself to co-operation of the commercial and agricultural interests, the farmer getting the profit of both producer and consumer.

Minnesota has 156,137 farms and of this number 123,326 are operated by owners and managers and 32,811 by tenants. The farm home owners of this state cultivate 14,439,000 acres of land and the tenants till 5,205,000 acres. The value of the buildings and land of the tenant farms is $321,173.00 and of the home owners and managers $941,269,000.

LaFollett refuses to become an independent candidate for governor in Wisconsin in opposition to the republican and democratic candidates, his recommendation being that some one else take the field as an independent progressive against them. Evidently the Wisconsin senator figures that the independent candidate is due for a "trouncing" at the coming election.

Beltrami county is to have a fur farm, skunk and mink are to be raised and the farmers who have been troubled by these animals stealing their chickens are advised to trap and turn them over to the fur farm alive by the Bemidji Pioneer. The mink proposition might be all right along that line, but just what method would be used to trap a skunk alive and deliver the goods with any degree of comfort remains to be told.

Certificate of Incorporation of The Sheridan Company.

We, the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter Fifty Eight, General Statutes of Minnesota for 1913, and any amendments thereof, do hereby associate ourselves as a body corporate and do hereby adopt the following certificate of incorporation.

The name of this corporation shall be "The Sheridan Company." The general nature of its business shall be the carrying on and conducting of a general engineering, steam-fitting, heating, plumbing and contracting business, including therein the designing, constructing, enlarging, repairing, or removing or otherwise engaging in any work upon buildings, roads, highways, manufacturing plants, bridges, mines, shafts, water works, railroads, railway structures and all iron, steel, wood, masonry and earth construction and to extend and receive any contracts or assignments of contracts thereto, or connecting therewith, and to manufacture and furnish the building materials and supplies connected therewith, to purchase, manufacture and sell heaters, stoves, furnaces and other devices and appliances for generating heat; to purchase, take out, use and sell letters patent of the United States and elsewhere for such devices and appliances, and to issue licenses to others to purchase, manufacture and sell said heaters, stoves, furnaces, devices and appliances; to manufacture, buy, sell, lease, store and repair automobiles and motor vehicles of all descriptions and their parts and accessories; to purchase, improve, develop, hold and enjoy real estate, in fee simple, upon ground rent or lease, and to lease, mortgage and sell the same and to erect, manage, care for, maintain, extend and alter buildings thereon, and to do and perform all other acts necessary and incident to the conduct or management of such business. The principal place of transacting the business of this corporation shall be the City of Brainerd, Crow Wing County, State of Minnesota.

The time for the commencement of this corporation shall be October seventeenth, 1914, and the period of its duration shall be thirty years.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation are Louis W. Sheridan, Roy W. Sheridan, Chas. N. Sheridan, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell, all of Brainerd, Minnesota.

The management of this corporation shall be vested in a Board of Directors composed of not less than three and not more than seven members. The names and addresses of the first Board of Directors are Louis W. Sheridan, Roy W. Sheridan, Chas. N. Sheridan, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell, all of Brainerd, Minnesota. The officers of this corporation shall be Louis W. Sheridan, President, W. H. Crowell, Vice-President, Roy W. Sheridan, Secretary, and O. M. Hansyn, Treasurer. All of the above named officers and directors shall hold their respective offices aforesaid until the next annual meeting of this corporation, to be held January fourth, 1915, at which time and annually thereafter a Board of Directors shall be elected from and by the stockholders of this corporation.

The annual meeting of this corporation shall be held at its principal place of business on the first Monday in January of each year. Immediately after the election of directors or as soon thereafter as practicable, the directors shall meet and elect from their number a President and a Vice-President and from their number or from the stockholders, a Secretary and Treasurer. Any office vacant or the President and Vice-President may be held by one and the same person. The directors and officers of this corporation shall hold their respective offices until their successors have been duly elected and entered upon the discharge of their duties. The first meeting of the stockholders and Board of Directors shall be held at Brainerd, Minnesota, on the seventeenth day of October, at Seven o'clock P. M. of said day.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00) which shall be paid in in money or property, or both, in such manner, at such times, and in such amounts as the Board of Directors shall order. The capital stock shall be divided into twenty five hundred shares (2500) of the par value of Ten Dollars ($10.00) each.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject, shall be the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00.) In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals, this 2nd day of October, 1914.

CITY CHRISTMAS TREE IS PLANNED

ILLUMINATED CHRISTMAS WEEK

Public Skating Ring also Planned for the Winter Season—The Committee Meetings

Braierd is to have a public Christmas tree if plans of the public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce are endorsed at the next meeting of the membership. In most large cities throughout the state, municipal Christmas trees have been made a feature of the holidays, and no effort is to be spared by the committee this year to place Braierd on the list of progressive cities.

A tree 40 or 50 feet in height will be erected in one of the parks, so that everyone can attend the festivities and exercises to be conducted in conjunction. Colored electric lights will be strung over the tree in profusion and it is estimated two or three hundred incandescent lamps will be necessary to illuminate the tree adequately, while tinsel and other decorations will be used to add to its attractiveness. The public will be appealed to for gifts in the way of peanuts, candy and popcorn, which will be freely distributed to the children of the city. Presents that may be voluntarily donated will have a number, a duplicate of which will be enclosed in a sack of peanuts or popcorn, and the child receiving a bag with a number enclosed will be entitled to the present bearing a corresponding number.

The tree will be lit up every evening of Christmas week while on different nights appropriate exercises will be conducted. Every church in the city is to be asked to co-operate, while appropriate musical programs are to be arranged. With the weather permitting, ministers of the city will be asked to deliver addresses, while other prominent speakers will likewise be asked to participate.

There will be two committee meetings held this evening. At 7:30 the streets and boulevards committee will meet to discuss matters that have been referred for a report on, while at 8:30 the parks and playgrounds committee will take up the matter of a public skating ring being planned for. The following members are requested to be in attendance:

Streets & Boulevards—Edw. Crust, Chairman, L. Kaudson, H. Johnson, H. W. Linnemann, W. Mc Closkey, Parks & Playgrounds—Anton Mahlum, Chairman, E. H. Jones, W. A. Hanna, B. C. McNamara, J. Molstad, Mrs. E. E. Forsythe.

A meeting of the advisory board will be held on next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. With the advent of cooler weather a majority of the committees have been meeting with the secretary and each committee will present a report outlining their plans and making recommendations.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

President R. R. Wise Presided at the Regular Meeting Held—Business Transacted

President Wise was delegated to attend the Minnesota Educational Association meeting in St. Paul, Oct. 21 and 24, he to select two members of the board to accompany him. Quite a number of grade teachers will attend the annual convention. Where possible, their positions will be filled with substitutes.

Monthly reports of Supt. W. C. Cobb on the condition of the schools and bookroom were read, accepted and placed on file.

The secretary was instructed to purchase dry wood for the Lowell building. The resolution on the tax levy for 115 was adopted, all voting aye. It provides for the levy of $42,500.

The secretary reported having purchased two additional typewriters for use in the commercial department. The action was ratified.

The building committee was given full power to act relative to the sewer proposition in the Harrison building. The board has endeavored to get a line of sewers to connect with the district sewer.

IS SHOT WHILE MOWING ON FARM

Leroy Whirley, of Braierd, Badly Injured by Accidental Discharge of Shot Gun

GUN SLIPPED INTO THE MOWER

Full Charge Tore His Chest and Smashed a Couple of Ribs, is Now at Sisters Hospital

Carrying a shotgun while running a mowing machine resulted disastrously for Leroy Whirley, of Braierd, aged 18, working on a farm 10 miles west of Belle Prairie.

The gun slipped into the mower, caught in a wheel and was discharged point blank into his chest, riddling him with shot and smashing two ribs.

The accident happened about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The injured man was hurriedly taken to the station and arrived in Braierd on the midnight train and was taken to the Sisters hospital where he was attended by Dr. F. A. Bennett.

Whirley carried the gun on his machine, hoping to shoot an occasional chicken. He suffers great pain from the injury and when seen at the hospital this morning, it was only with difficulty that he was able to talk.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whirley, live at 1516 Northeast 9th street.

NEW CORPORATION, THE SHERLUND CO.

Organized by Braierd Business Men to Engage in Plumbing, Steam Fitting, Etc.

CAPITAL STOCK OF $25,000.00

Highest Amount of Indebtedness Allowed is $10,000, Braierd Principal Place of Business

The Sherlund Company is the name of a new corporation formed by Braierd business men for the purpose of carrying on a general engineering, steamfitting, heating, plumbing and contracting business, automobile repairing and contracting of various kinds, the principal place of business being in Braierd. The corporation commences business October 17 for a period of 30 years.

The incorporators are Louis W. Sherlund, Roy W. Sherlund, Charles N. Sherlund, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell, all of Braierd. The first board of directors includes Louis W. Sherlund, Roy W. Sherlund, Charles N. Sherlund, O. M. Hansyn and W. H. Crowell.

The first officers are President Louis W. Sherlund, vice president, W. H. Crowell, secretary, Ray W. Sherlund and treasurer O. M. Hansyn.

The capital stock is $25,000 and the highest indebtedness allowed is $10,000.

Liefke-Kauts

Gustav Liefke and Miss Selma Kauts were united in marriage by Rev. Zable, at the parsonage Wednesday noon. The bride is a resident of Pequot and the groom owns a farm in Cass county west of that place which will be the future home of the newly married couple. Mr. and Mrs. Liefke returned to Pequot on the afternoon train.

POTATOES DROP IN PRICE

The Spud Market Has Been on the Slide for Past 10 Days—2,000 Cars on the Track

The bottom seems to have dropped out of the potato market completely and prices have lowered in consequence. Spuds are being bought on the cars at Nevis, Wadena and Park Rapids for 25c per bushel, while at Long Prairie and Browerville but 23 cents is being paid, according to the Bemidji Pioneer. Minneapolis information says that 2,000 cars of potatoes are standing on the track in that city and St. Paul, there being practically no demand for them. Dealers predict that the market will return to its normal condition within the next ten days or two weeks, but that is merely a guess and growers of potatoes in large quantities are watching conditions with considerable interest and anxiety.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war, the price remains the same. No opiates. Don't take substitutes, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. H. P. Dunn.—10763

MAY LOSE RIGHT ARM IN ACCIDENT

FELL FROM BUMPERS OF EXTRA

Was Picked up the Yards Half a Block East of the Broadway Railway Crossing

Dan Leary, of Canada, a transient, had his right arm badly crushed when he fell from the bumpers of a wheat extra which was pulling through the yards at about 12:30 P. M. headed for Duluth.

J. E. Ellenson, of the Gund Brewing Co., driving along Fourth street, said he saw the man swing on to the extra near Sixth street and remarked to a companion at the time that the man had made the train.

Passing Broadway one of the switchmen said he saw Leary riding the bumpers and he was changing his position. At a point where the track makes a sudden swerve to the main line about half a block east of the Broadway crossing, Leary lurched forward and lost his balance. He is said to have thrown up his right hand and struggled to launch himself clear of the train. This convulsive action saved his life. His right arm, however, was so badly crushed that amputation may be necessary. He was also badly bruised about the head.

Officer Mike Setula helped put the man on a cot of a wagon sent over by the Northern Pacific railway hospital and at Sixth street he was hurriedly transferred to a switch engine and taken to the hospital.

The injured man's partner, believed to be Joseph I. Adams, accompanied him to the hospital and making a disturbance there, was locked up by Officer Mike Setula. The name Adams was on a letter carried by the prisoner and was addressed to Independence, N. D.

Officer Setula said that Adams claimed Leary had got $10 from Adams while in a saloon and then left hurriedly and yelled "I. W. W." and made for the extra and boarded it.

The name Leary was found on a notebook among the personal effects of the injured man.

Notice

Court Magnolia, United Order of Foresters will hold a special meeting Friday night at Elks hall. A large class will be initiated. Mrs. M. R. Frank and Judge James Schoonmaker of Minneapolis, will be present. All members are requested to attend.

SECOND QUARTER AUSPICIOUS

Secretary C. E. Hansing Gives Glowing Report of Chamber of Commerce Activities

In a circular letter to the members of the Braierd Chamber of Commerce, Secretary C. E. Hansing says that the beginning of the second quarter sees the organization on a sound, workable basis. Already several matters of prime importance have been taken up and results obtained while a majority of the committees are diligently at work accomplishing even greater things.

Membership blanks and cards were enclosed with the letter. Mr. Hansing says further that the membership now numbers over 400, but with a population of over 10,000, there should be at least 800 who are personally and vitally interested in the progress of the city and the organization. If every member would make it his special task to solicit but one membership between now and the first of November, this number could easily be obtained.

With the advent of cooler weather, says Mr. Hansing, comes the time for serious thought, careful consideration and vigorous action. Let everyone speed up. Let each member be inspired to new activities and to new faith in his home town. Your cooperation and a little of your time should be freely given either by attending your committee meetings or by attending the regular monthly meetings, and by so doing give to Braierd that which it has a right to ask for.

Cottage Sites at Hubert

If you contemplate having a cottage at Hubert at any future time, make your selection of sites now and have time on the price for most of it if you wish. Prices are advancing quite rapidly and I have decided to open some lake front not heretofore offered, as it is desirable to get enough cottagers to justify a train car at evening and back in morning. 10761w

FIRE WASTE WAS ABOUT $4,000,000

A Good Fire Department is Necessary but Citizens Can Help by Doing Their Duty

TO HOLD FIRE PREVENTION DAY

State Fire Marshal Deplores Waste in Calling Attention to Fire Prevention Oct. 9

The observance of fire prevention day is being widely advertised through the state, and Braierd will observe the day which has been set for Friday, Oct. 9. The state fire marshal has sent out in circular form hints for the observance and points out that the fire waste in Minnesota last year was about $4,000,000, of which more than half easily could have been saved. A good fire department is necessary, but if the citizens do their duty in the matter of preventing fires the fire department will not be nearly so busy as it is, he says. Poor installation of heating and lighting apparatus, imperfectly built chimneys and accumulations of rubbish cause most of the blazes.

Following is Mr. Keler's plan for celebrating Oct. 9:

Let every household make an inspection of his premises for fire dangers.

Examine especially all chimneys and see if the mortar has fallen out to permit some vagrant spark to escape into the attic or under the roof.

Rubbish is a constant menace, as a carelessly thrown match may set it afire or a spark come along and ignite it.

Gas connections should be examined and rubber hose, if in use, should be replaced by iron pipes.

See that stovepipes do not pass through wooden partitions or come in contact with wood at any point.

If you live in a municipality which maintains a fire department and you feel incompetent to make a proper inspection of your premises, call upon the chief of the department and he will gladly detail a skilled man to assist you. Business men especially should freely avail themselves of their fire-fighting forces.

It is also suggestion as a part of the observance of the day that all parents instruct their children in the common household fire dangers and warn them against playing with or carelessly using matches.

Let public and private institutions be inspected on that day and local authorities give attention to better building regulations, fire prevention and fire protection.

Let fire drills be held in schools, institutions and factories.

Let our people observe the day by a general cleaning up and let them be enlightened at civic and other gatherings.

CITY CHRISTMAS TREE IS PLANNED

ILLUMINATED CHRISTMAS WEEK

Public Skating Ring also Planned for the Winter Season—The Committee Meetings

Braierd is to have a public Christmas tree if plans of the public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce are endorsed at the next meeting of the membership. In most large cities throughout the state, municipal Christmas trees have been made a feature of the holidays, and no effort is to be spared by the committee this year to place Braierd on the list of progressive cities.

A tree 40 or 50 feet in height will be erected in one of the parks, so that everyone can attend the festivities and exercises to be conducted in conjunction. Colored electric lights will be strung over the tree in profusion and it is estimated two or three hundred incandescent lamps will be necessary to illuminate the tree adequately, while tinsel and other decorations will be used to add to its attractiveness. The public will be appealed to for gifts in the way of peanuts, candy and popcorn, which will be freely distributed to the children of the city. Presents that may be voluntarily donated will have a number, a duplicate of which will be enclosed in a sack of peanuts or popcorn, and the child receiving a bag with a number enclosed will be entitled to the present bearing a corresponding number.

The tree will be lit up every evening of Christmas week while on different nights appropriate exercises will be conducted. Every church in the city is to be asked to co-operate, while appropriate musical programs are to be arranged. With the weather permitting, ministers of the city will be asked to deliver addresses, while other prominent speakers will likewise be asked to participate.

There will be two committee meetings held this evening. At 7:30 the streets and boulevards committee will meet to discuss matters that have been referred for a report on, while at 8:30 the parks and playgrounds committee will take up the matter of a public skating ring being planned for. The following members are requested to be in attendance:

Streets & Boulevards—Edw. Crust, Chairman, L. Knudson, H. Johnson, H. W. Linnemann, W. Mc Closkey.

Parks & Playgrounds—Anton Mahlum, Chairman, E. H. Jones, W. A. Hanna, B. C. McNamara, J. Molstad, Mrs. E. E. Forsythe.

A meeting of the advisory board will be held on next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. With the advent of cooler weather a majority of the committees have been meeting with the secretary and each committee will present a report outlining their plans and making recommendations.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

President R. R. Wise Presided at the Regular Meeting Held—Business Transacted

President Wise was delegated to attend the Minnesota Educational Association meeting in St. Paul, Oct. 21 and 24, he to select two members of the board to accompany him.

Quite a number of grade teachers will attend the annual convention. Where possible, their positions will be filled with substitutes.

Monthly reports of Supt. W. C. Cobb on the condition of the schools and bookroom were read, accepted and placed on file.

The secretary was instructed to purchase dry wood for the Lowell building. The resolution on the tax levy for 115 was adopted, all voting aye. It provides for the levy of $42,500.

The secretary reported having purchased two additional typewriters for use in the commercial department. The action was ratified.

The building committee was given full power to act relative to the sewer proposition in the Harrison building. The board has endeavored to get a line of sewers to connect with the district sewer.

IS SHOT WHILE MOWING ON FARM

GUN SLIPPED INTO THE MOWER

Full Charge Tore His Chest and Smashed a Couple of Ribs, is Now at Sisters Hospital

Carrying a shotgun while running a mowing machine resulted disastrously for Leroy Whirley, of Braierd, aged 18, working on a farm 10 miles west of Belle Prairie. The gun slipped into the mower, caught in a wheel and was discharged point blank into his chest, riddling him with shot and smashing two ribs.

The accident happened about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The injured man was hurriedly taken to the station and arrived in Braierd on the midnight train and was taken to the Sisters hospital where he was attended by Dr. F. A. Bennett.

Whirley carried the gun on his machine, hoping to shoot an occasional chicken. He suffers great pain from the injury and when seen at the hospital this morning, it was only with difficulty that he was able to talk.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whirley, live at 1516 Northeast 9th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Liefke returned to Pequot on the afternoon train.

POTATOES DROP IN PRICE

The Spud Market Has Been on the Slide for Past 10 Days—2,000 Cars on the Track

The bottom seems to have dropped out of the potato market completely and prices have lowered in consequence. Spuds are being bought on the cars at Nevis, Wadena and Park Rapids for 25c per bushel, while at Long Prairie and Browerville but 23 cents is being paid, according to the Bemidji Pioneer. Minneapolis information says that 2,000 cars of potatoes are standing on the track in that city and St. Paul, there being practically no demand for them. Dealers predict that the market will return to its normal condition within the next ten days or two weeks, but that is merely a guess and growers of potatoes in large quantities are watching conditions with considerable interest and anxiety.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war, the price remains the same. No opiates. Don't take substitutes, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. H. P. Dunn.—

MAY LOSE RIGHT ARM IN ACCIDENT

FELL FROM BUMPERS OF EXTRA

Was Picked up the Yards Half a Block East of the Broadway Railway Crossing

Dan Leary, of Canada, a transient, had his right arm badly crushed when he fell from the bumpers of a wheat extra which was pulling through the yards at about 12:30 P. M. headed for Duluth.

J. E. Ellenson, of the Gund Brewing Co., driving along Fourth street, said he saw the man swing on to the extra near Sixth street and remarked to a companion at the time that the man had made the train.

Passing Broadway one of the switchmen said he saw Leary riding the bumpers and he was changing his position. At a point where the track makes a sudden swerve to the main line about half a block east of the Broadway crossing, Leary lurched forward and lost his balance. He is said to have thrown up his right hand and struggled to launch himself clear of the train. This convulsive action saved his life. His right arm, however, was so badly crushed that amputation may be necessary. He was also badly bruised about the head.

Officer Mike Setula helped put the man on a cot of a wagon sent over by the Northern Pacific railway hospital and at Sixth street he was hurriedly transferred to a switch engine and taken to the hospital.

The injured man's partner, believed to be Joseph I. Adams, accompanied him to the hospital and making a disturbance there, was locked up by Officer Mike Setula. The name Adams was on a letter carried by the prisoner and was addressed to Independence, N. D.

Officer Setula said that Adams claimed Leary had got $10 from Adams while in a saloon and then left hurriedly and yelled "I. W. W." and made for the extra and boarded it.

The name Leary was found on a notebook among the personal effects of the injured man.

SECOND QUARTER AUSPICIOUS

In a circular letter to the members of the Braierd Chamber of Commerce, Secretary C. E. Hansing says that the beginning of the second quarter sees the organization on a sound, workable basis. Already several matters of prime importance have been taken up and results obtained while a majority of the committees are diligently at work accomplishing even greater things.

Membership blanks and cards were enclosed with the letter. Mr. Hansing says further that the membership now numbers over 400, but with a population of over 10,000, there should be at least 800 who are personally and vitally interested in the progress of the city and the organization. If every member would make it his special task to solicit but one membership between now and the first of November, this number could easily be obtained.

With the advent of cooler weather, says Mr. Hansing, comes the time for serious thought, careful consideration and vigorous action. Let everyone speed up. Let each member be inspired to new activities and to new faith in his home town. Your cooperation and a little of your time should be freely given either by attending your committee meetings or by attending the regular monthly meetings, and by so doing give to Braierd that which it has a right to ask for.

Cottage Sites at Hubert

If you contemplate having a cottage at Hubert at any future time, make your selection of sites now and have time on the price for most of it if you wish. Prices are advancing quite rapidly and I have decided to open some lake front not heretofore offered, as it is desirable to get enough cottagers to justify a train out at evening and back in morning.

FIRE WASTE WAS ABOUT $4,000,000

A Good Fire Department is Necessary but Citizens Can Help by Doing Their Duty

TO HOLD FIRE PREVENTION DAY

State Fire Marshal Deplores Waste in Calling Attention to Fire Prevention Oct. 9

The observance of fire prevention day is being widely advertised through the state, and Braierd will observe the day which has been set for Friday, Oct. 9. The state fire marshal has sent out in circular form hints for the observance and points out that the fire waste in Minnesota last year was about $4,000,000, of which more than half easily could have been saved. A good fire department is necessary, but if the citizens do their duty in the matter of preventing fires the fire department will not be nearly so busy as it is, he says. Poor installation of heating and lighting apparatus, imperfectly built chimneys and accumulations of rubbish cause most of the blazes.

Following is Mr. Keeler's plan for celebrating Oct. 9:

Let every household make an inspection of his premises for fire dangers.

Examine especially all chimneys and see if the mortar has fallen out to permit some vagrant spark to escape into the attic or under the roof. Rubbish is a constant menace, as a carelessly thrown match may set it afire or a spark come along and ignite it.

Gas connections should be examined and rubber hose, if in use, should be replaced by iron pipes.

See that stovepipes do not pass through wooden partitions or come in contact with wood at any point.

If you live in a municipality which maintains a fire department and you feel incompetent to make a proper inspection of your premises, call upon the chief of the department and he will gladly detail a skilled man to assist you. Business men especially should freely avail themselves of their firefighting forces.

It is also suggestion as a part of the observance of the day that all parents instruct their children in the common household fire dangers and warn them against playing with or carelessly using matches.

Let public and private institutions be inspected on that day and local authorities give attention to better building regulations, fire prevention and fire protection.

Let fire drills be held in schools, institutions and factories.

Let our people observe the day by a general cleaning up and let them be enlightened at civic and other gatherings.

WILSON MAY KEEP CONGRESS BUSY

Plans to Have Session Continue Until Regular Term Begins.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR THE IDEA

Many Do Not Want to Go Home Before the Election, Preferring Defeat or Failure on Their Records Alone. Conservationists Won a Surprising Victory in Leasing System.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 6.—[Special].—There are rumors that President Wilson does not want congress to adjourn at all and that he has laid out enough work to keep them here until the regular session opens in December.

Then it is also reported that many congressmen do not want to go home for more than two or three days about election time, as they do not care to go on the stump for a few weeks under present conditions. As to the Democratic campaign most members assert that the president has made it for them and they must stand or fall on his record.

"Afraid to Go Home."

Congressman Lenroot of Wisconsin, who was once a rampant insurgent and is now one of the strongest Republicans in the house, told the Democrats the other day that they reminded him of the once popular song, "I Am Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," only that the title was changed to fit the Democrats so as to make it, "I am afraid to go home at all."

Lenroot said that was on account of the legislation which they had passed, such as the war revenue bill, the Philippine bill then under consideration, and other measures which were put through the house without any intention of becoming laws.

Surprising Victory.

Conservationists have won a surprising victory, or it will be when the bill authorizing the leasing of coal lands becomes a law. In time this law will be followed by a general leasing law system, for such a measure is now pending. Many western men have been fighting the leasing system, but the conservationists have kept the lands tied up until it has become absolutely necessary to do something with them. The western men generally preferred that the lands should be opened to settlement and purchase, but when it became apparent that the lands were to be permanently withdrawn until the leasing system was granted they gave in and have accepted the leasing system as inevitable.

Would Make It Interesting.

For a time the senate was working on the ruling that a senator could not yield to another without unanimous consent. Senator Lane of Oregon was one of the first victims of the new scheme, and he said that the rule had been honored more in the breach than in the observance, but that if it was to be enforced he wanted it to go right down the line, "and I think," he added, "that I can arrange it so as to make it exceedingly entertaining."

After a warning of that kind the enforcement of the rule was abandoned.

Not a Poet.

When John Sharp Williams was a member of the house he frequently

read doggerel to fit certain occasions. After quite a long time he did the same thing in the senate.

"Is the senator from Mississippi the author of the poem?" asked Senator Kenyon of Iowa.

"I have never been the author of any poem," replied Williams. "I have been the purveyor of a great many of them. I love doggerel for its own sake, for the mere jingle that is in it."

The Quorum Farce.

For several weeks the senate has been going through the farce of trying to make senators listen to the long speeches of senators. They cannot do it. The senate is empty most of the time. Some senator makes the point of no quorum. The roll is called, and senators come in from committee rooms, the cloak rooms or wherever they may have been, answer to their names and immediately go out again. Many senators will not remain more than half a minute. It all is such a screaming farce as to make the body ridiculous.

Collector at Denver.

Senator Shafroth had considerable amusement recently in introducing a friend as the "collector of the port of Denver." And his title was real, too, although Denver is about as far removed from navigation as any city in the country. The water of Denver comes from the Rocky mountains. There is a trace of a stream there in the summer time, and in flood seasons it becomes quite a river, but not for navigation purposes. The collector of the port of Denver is not supposed to be overworked.

Mann Looking Forward.

Minority Leader Mann told the house a few days ago that only such legislation should now be considered as it was deemed necessary to pass and which was likely to pass. If time was wasted now, he said, and the short session of congress devoted to anything but appropriation bills there would be no possibility of a recess and a rest next summer. Most members have come to the conclusion that the days of long vacations are gone forever.

WORLDWIDE LABOR INQUIRY.

A worldwide investigation of the relations of labor and capital with the object of determining the causes of "bitter enmities" and searching out the remedy is to be undertaken by the Rockefeller foundation, which John D. Rockefeller endowed with $100,000,000. The scope of the inquiry is to be without limit and the foundation trustees have chosen William Lyon Mackenzie King, former Canadian minister of labor, to direct the work.

In announcing the plan given out the trustees say that they realize that the foundation is "attempting to grapple with the most complicated question of modern times," but hope by a gradual and systematic approach to it to win "the co-operation, not alone of employers and workmen, of the industrial organizations, of individuals and institutions interested in social reform, but also of the universities and government throughout the world."

"Half Dressed Girls" Close School.

Three thousand pupils of the Lynn (Mass.) schools enjoyed a holiday because Superintendent Peaselee "didn't want to subject half dressed girls to taking severe colds" while some of the school boilers were out of commission. "If girls would not come to school half dressed it would not be necessary for us to close the building on account of the cold weather," said the superintendent.

In the News and Out of the Ordinary

Long Island, in Portland Harbor, now sends in its fire alarms by wireless.

When John Canfield was sent to a hospital at Mendocino, Cal., his hand lady held his wooden leg for room rent.

Manager of a Bristol (Pa.) distillery has put on guard as night watchman a large black bear which was presented to him.

A farmer of Jacksonwald, Pa., has an old tree from the side of which is growing a big red apple direct from the bark, without branch or twig.

The clerk of the recorder's court in Mill Valley, Cal., recently filed the following case: "George Washington vs. Christopher Columbus—landlord's action to recover rent."

WORLD'S SERIES OUTLOOK SEEN BY BASEBALL EXPERT

How the Boston Braves Rate With the Philadelphia Athletics.

The contest for the baseball championship of the world makes an article by an expert in the New York Times of especial interest.

The situation which confronts the prophets in this year's world's series, says the writer, is difficult and uncertain, inasmuch as the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league outclass the Boston of the National league very decisively as far as comparison of past performances is concerned. The angle which increases the uncertainty is that Stallings' sensational Braves are an unknown, untied proposition as far as world's series play is concerned.

While the Athletics outclass the Braves in batting and base running, the Boston players have accomplished a remarkable achievement. They have made a meteoric rise from last place to first. They have acquired the "winning habit." The question is, "Will this winning habit carry them high and dry through the slugging Mackmen?"

Considering the matter coolly and cautiously on what baseball fans call the "dope," the Athletics should win with little trouble.

On the other hand, with three really remarkable pitchers like James, Rudolph and Tyler going at their best, the batting prowess of the Athletics may receive a severe setback.

But the same thing was said in 1910 about the Cub pitchers, Brown, Overall and Pfeister. Yet the Mackmen pounded them into oblivion without trouble. They did the same thing in 1911 to the Giant pitching staff, when Mathewson, Marquard and Treaue were supposed to be at the zenith of their pitching form. A heavy hitting club is always dangerous. It is apt to hit all kinds of pitching at all times.

Retort Courteous.

And for several seconds longer the stillness strangled their spirits in its ruthless grasp.

Then of a sudden a cry shrilled through the fog, so near at hand that it seemed scarcely more distant than over the side:

"Ahoy! Help! Ahoy there! Help!" So insistent, so urgent was its accent that, coupled with the surprise, it brought the three as one to their feet, all a-tremble, their eyes seeking one another's faces, then shifting uneasily away.

"What can it be?" Rose whispered, aghast, shrinking into Alan's ready arm.

"A woman," Barcus put in harshly. "Judith," the girl moaned.

Alan shook himself together. "Impossible!" he contended. "I saw her go down . . ."

"That doesn't prove she didn't come up," Barcus commented acidly.

"Ahoy! Motorboat aho-ooy! Help!" "And that," Barcus pursued sadly, "just proves she did come up—blame the luck! Alive she is, and kicking; stand clear. An able-bodied pair of lungs was back of that hail, my friend; and you needn't tell me I don't know the dulcet accents of that angelic contralto!"

Without heeding him, Alan cupped hands to mouth and sent an answering cry ringing through the murk:

"Ahoy! Where are you? Where away?"

"Here—on the reef—half-drowned—perishing with chill—"

"How does my voice bear?" Alan called back.

"What the dickens do you care?" Barcus interpolated suspiciously.

"To port," the response rang through the fog. "Starboard your helm and come in slowly!"

"Right-o! Half a minute!" Alan replied reassuringly.

"Like hell!" Mr. Barcus muttered in his throat as he jumped down into the engine pit and bent over the fly-wheel. Leaping on the forward thwart and balancing himself perilously near the gunwale, Alan strained his vision vainly against the opacity of the fog.

"Can't make out anything," he grumbled, looking back. "Start her up—but slow's the word—and 'ware reef!"

"Nothing doing," Barcus retorted curtly. "The motto is now 'Full speed astern!' as you must know."

"O come! We can't leave a woman out there—in a fix like that!"

"Can't we? You watch!" Barcus grunted malevolently, rocking the heavy flywheel with all his might; for the motor had turned suddenly stubborn.

"Alan!" Rose pleaded, laying a hand upon his sleeve. "Think what it means! I know it sounds heartless of me—and it's my own sister. But you know how mad she is—wild with hatred and jealousy. If you take her into this boat, it's your life or hers!" "If we leave her out there," Alan retorted, shaking his arm impatiently free, "it's her life on our heads!" At this juncture the motor took charge of the argument, ending it in summary fashion. With a smart explosion in the cylinder, it started up unexpectedly, at one and the same time almost dislocating the arm of Mr. Barcus and precipitating Alan overboard.

It was not given him to know what was happening until he found himself in the water; he struggled to the surface just in time to see the bows of the lifeboat back away and vanish into the mist.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Island.

'Not more than twenty seconds could have elapsed before Barcus recovered from the shock of the motor's treachery sufficiently to reverse the wheel, throttle down the carburetor and jump out of the engine-pit.

But in that small space of time the lifeboat and Alan Law had parted company as definitely as though one of them had been levitated bodily to the far side of the earth.

It could not have been more than a minute after the accident before Barcus was guiding the boat over what, going on his sense of location and judgment of distance, he could have sworn was the precise spot where Alan had disappeared, but without discovering a sign of him.

And for the next twenty minutes he divided his attention between attempts to soothe and reassure the half-distracted girl and efforts to elude a reply from Alan by stentorian hailing—with as little success in the one as in the other.

"Alan!" he shrieked at the top of his lungs. "Alan! Give a ball to tell us you're safe!"

There was a little pause; he was racking his brains for some more moving mode of appeal when the answer came in another voice—in the voice of Judith Trine, clear, musical, effervescent with sardonic humor:

"Be at peace, little one—bleat no more! Mr. Law is with us—and safe—oh, quite, quite safe!"

In dumb consternation Barcus sought the countenance of Rose. Her eyes, meeting his, were blank with despair. He shook his head helplessly and let his hands dangle idly between his knees.

LAUDS AMERICAN HOSPITAL

Sir Frederick Treves Praises Institution Near Torquay.

London, Oct. 6.—The Red Cross hospital of 200 beds, established by the American women's war relief fund, near Torquay, is the best equipped and best arranged war hospital in England, according to Sir Frederick Treves, the distinguished surgeon.

This organization, which has for officers Lady Paget, Mrs. John Astor and other well known Anglo-Americans, has appropriated $25,000 for motor ambulances to convey wounded from the ships to the various hospitals.

KILL LOBSTERS KINDLY.

Put Them In Cold Water and Slowly Bring Them to a Boil.

Boiling over a slow fire is the happiest death a lobster can meet, so it has been determined at the Jersey marine biological station. The experiments were carried out by Joseph Sinel, a well known biologist, for the Isle of Jersey Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, whose members associated the prevalent method of killing lobsters with medieval torture.

Lobsters, says Mr. Sinel, are extremely difficult to kill. Piercing the brain does not seem to cause the lobster more than temporary annoyance, since his brain is a mere nerve ganglion the size of a hemp seed. He has to be killed all over. To throw him into boiling water fails to do the work either mercifully or quickly since he struggles violently to escape for about two minutes.

The pleasantest way to end a lobster's troubles, Mr. Sinel finds, is the old fashioned way of placing him in cold water and bringing him to a boil. As the water warms he becomes lazy and rolls over as for a sleep. By the time the water reaches the comparatively mild temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit he becomes comatose. At 80 degrees he is dead. To use a human illustration, the biologist says it is like a person succumbing to a heat wave, with loss of consciousness and a painless end.—London Cor. New York Post.

WILSON MAY KEEP CONGRESS BUSY

Plans to Have Session Continue Until Regular Term Begins.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR THE IDEA

Many Do Not Want to Go Home Before the Election, Preferring Defeat or Failure on Their Records Alone. Conservationists Won a Surprising Victory in Leasing System.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 6.—[Special.]—There are rumors that President Wilson does not want congress to adjourn at all and that he has laid out enough work to keep them here until the regular session opens in December.

Then it is also reported that many congressmen do not want to go home for more than two or three days about election time, as they do not care to go on the stump for a few weeks under present conditions. As to the Democratic campaign most members assert that the president has made it for them and they must stand or fall on his record.

"Afraid to Go Home.

Congressman Lenroot of Wisconsin, who was once a rampant insurgent and is now one of the strongest Republicans in the house, told the Democrats the other day that they reminded him of the once popular song, "I Am Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," only that the title was changed to fit the Democrats so as to make it, "I am afraid to go home at all."

Lenroot said that was on account of the legislation which they had passed, such as the war revenue bill, the Philippine bill then under consideration, and other measures which were put through the house without any intention of becoming laws.

Surprising Victory.

Conservationists have won a surprising victory, or it will be when the bill authorizing the leasing of coal lands becomes a law. In time this law will be followed by a general leasing law system, for such a measure is now pending. Many western men have been fighting the leasing system, but the conservationists have kept the lands tied up until it has become absolutely necessary to do something with them. The western men generally preferred that the lands should be opened to settlement and purchase, but when it became apparent that the lands were to be permanently withdrawn until the leasing system was granted they gave in and have accepted the leasing system as inevitable.

Would Make It Interesting.

For a time the senate was working on the ruling that a senator could not yield to another without unanimous consent. Senator Lane of Oregon was one of the first victims of the new scheme, and he said that the rule had been honored more in the breach than in the observance, but that if it was to be enforced he wanted it to go right down the line, "and I think," he added, "that I can arrange it so as to make it exceedingly entertaining."

After a warning of that kind the enforcement of the rule was abandoned.

Not a Poet.

When John Sharp Williams was a member of the house he frequently

read doggerel to fit certain occasions. After quite a long time he did the same thing in the senate.

"Is the senator from Mississippi the author of the poem?" asked Senator Kenyon of Iowa.

"I have never been the author of any poem," replied Williams. "I have been the purveyor of a great many of them. I love doggerel for its own sake, for the mere jingle that is in it."

The Quorum Farce.

For several weeks the senate has been going through the farce of trying to make senators listen to the long speeches of senators. They cannot do it. The senate is empty most of the time. Some senator makes the point of no quorum. The roll is called, and senators come in from committee rooms, the cloak rooms or wherever they may have been, answer to their names and immediately go out again. Many senators will not remain more than half a minute. It all is such a screaming farce as to make the body ridiculous.

Collector at Denver.

Senator Shafroth had considerable amusement recently in introducing a friend as the "collector of the port of Denver." And his title was real, too, although Denver is about as far removed from navigation as any city in the country. The water of Denver comes from the Rocky mountains. There is a trace of a stream there in the summer time, and in flood seasons it becomes quite a river, but not for navigation purposes. The collector of the port of Denver is not supposed to be overworked.

Mann Looking Forward.

Minority Leader Mann told the house a few days ago that only such legislation should now be considered as it was deemed necessary to pass and which was likely to pass. If time was wasted now, he said, and the short session of congress devoted to anything but appropriation bills there would be no possibility of a recess and a rest next summer. Most members have come to the conclusion that the days of long vacations are gone forever.

WORLDWIDE LABOR INQUIRY.

A worldwide investigation of the relations of labor and capital with the object of determining the causes of "bitter enmities" and searching out the remedy is to be undertaken by the Rockefeller foundation, which John D. Rockefeller endowed with $100,000,000. The scope of the inquiry is to be without limit and the foundation trustees have chosen William Lyon Mackenzie King, former Canadian minister of labor, to direct the work.

In announcing the plan given out the trustees say that they realize that the foundation is "attempting to grapple with the most complicated question of modern times," but hope by a gradual and systematic approach to it to win "the co-operation, not alone of employers and workmen, of the industrial organizations, of individuals and institutions interested in social reform, but also of the universities and governments throughout the world."

"Half Dressed Girls" Close School.

Three thousand pupils of the Lynn (Mass.) schools enjoyed a holiday because Superintendent Peaselee "didn't want to subject half dressed girls to taking severe colds" while some of the school boilers were out of commission.

"If girls would not come to school half dressed it would not be necessary for us to close the building on account of the cold weather," said the superintendent.

In the News and Out of the Ordinary

Long Island, in Portland Harbor, now sends in its fire alarms by wireless.

When John Canfield was sent to a hospital at Mendocino, Cal., his land lady held his wooden leg for room rent.

Manager of a Bristol (Pa.) distillery has put on guard as night watchman a large black bear which was presented to him.

WORLD'S SERIES OUTLOOK SEEN BY BASEBALL EXPERT

How the Boston Braves Rate With the Philadelphia Athletics.

The contest for the baseball championship of the world makes an article by an expert in the New York Times of especial interest.

The situation which confronts the prophets in this year's world's series, says the writer, is difficult and uncertain, inasmuch as the Philadelphia Athletics of the American league outclass the Boston of the National league very decisively as far as comparison of past performances is concerned. The angle which increases the uncertainty is that Stallings' sensational Braves are an unknown, untried proposition as far as world's series play is concerned.

While the Athletics outclass the Braves in batting and base running, the Boston players have accomplished a remarkable achievement. They have made a meteoric rise from last place to first. They have acquired the "winning habit." The question is, "Will this winning habit carry them high and dry through the slugging Mackmen?"

Considering the matter coolly and cautiously on what baseball fans call the "dope," the Athletics should win with little trouble. On the other hand, with three really remarkable pitchers like James, Rudolph and Tyler going at their best, the batting prowess of the Athletics may receive a severe setback.

But the same thing was said in 1910 about the Cub pitchers, Brown, Overall and Pfeister. Yet the Mackmen pounded them into oblivion without trouble. They did the same thing in 1911 to the Giant pitching staff, when Mathewson, Marquard and Tesreau were supposed to be at the zenith of their pitching form. A heavy hitting club is always dangerous. It is apt to hit all kinds of pitching at all times.

And for several seconds longer the stillness strangled their spirits in its ruthless grasp.

Then of a sudden a cry shrilled through the fog, so near at hand that it seemed scarcely more distant than over the side:

"Ahoy! Help! Ahoy there! Help!"

So insistent, so urgent was its accent that, coupled with the surprise, it brought the three as one to their feet, all a-tremble, their eyes seeking one another's faces, then shifting unavailingly away.

"What can it be?" Rose whispered, aghast, shrinking into Alan's ready arm.

"A woman," Barcus put in harshly.

"Judith," the girl moaned.

Alan shook himself together. "Impossible!" he contended. "I saw her go down . . ."

"That doesn't prove she didn't come up," Barcus commented acidly.

"Ahoy! Motorboat ahoy-o-y! Help!"

"And that," Barcus pursued sadly, "just proves she did come up—blame the luck! Alive she is, and kicking; stand clear. An able-bodied pair of lungs was back of that hail, my friend; and you needn't tell me I don't know the dulcet accents of that angelic contralto!"

Without heeding him, Alan cupped hands to mouth and sent an answering cry ringing through the murk: "Ahoy! Where are you? Where away?"

"Here—on the reef—half-drowned—perishing with chill!"

"How does my voice bear?" Alan called back.

"What the dickens do you care?"

Barcus interpolated suspiciously.

"To port," the response rang through the fog. "Starboard your helm and come in slowly!"

"Right-o! Half a minute!" Alan replied reassuringly.

"Like hell!" Mr. Barcus muttered in his throat as he jumped down into the engine pit and bent over the fly-wheel.

Leaping on the forward thwart and balancing himself perilously near the gunwale, Alan strained his vision vainly against the opacity of the fog.

"Can't make out anything," he grumbled, looking back. "Start her up—but slow's the word—and 'ware reef!"

"Nothing doing," Barcus retorted curtly. "The motto is now 'Full speed astern!' as you must know."

"O come! We can't leave a woman out there—in a fix like that!"

"Can't we? You watch!" Barcus grunted malevolently, rocking the heavy fly-wheel with all his might; for the motor had turned suddenly stubborn.

"Alan!" Rose pleaded, laying a hand upon his sleeve. "Think what it means! I know it sounds heartless of me—and it's my own sister. But you know how mad she is—wild with hatred and jealousy. If you take her into this boat, it's your life or hers!"

"If we leave her out there," Alan retorted, shaking his arm impatiently free, "it's her life on our heads!"

At this juncture the motor took charge of the argument, ending it in summary fashion. With a smart explosion in the cylinder, it started up unexpectedly, at one and the same time almost dislocating the arm of Mr. Barcus and precipitating Alan overboard.
